

Posted in Washington | August 14, 2019 by Jessica Wick

There's A Wine Themed Hotel In Washington, And It's As Amazing As It Sounds

Washington's best wine grapes are grown on the East side, and the Red Mountain area in particular is known for its perfect geology and climate for producing our finest vino. This part of the state has a unique rural beauty that will steal your heart — and while you're there, there's no better place to stay than Washington's own wine-themed hotel. Here's what you're missing if you haven't stayed at The Lodge at Columbia Point.

The Lodge at Columbia Point is located in Richland, right on the beautiful Columbia River.

The Lodge at Columbia Point Facebook

It's a quick 10-20 minute drive from all of Washington's best wineries and tasting rooms (and the Tri Cities has Uber and Lyft now, so you can leave your car behind).

Step inside and you'll instantly realize that this place is something special.

The Lodge at Columbia Point Facebook

It looks like a destination resort in the heart of a classic wine destination like Sonoma, but instead, you'll get to enjoy our own up-and-coming wine destination.

Unsurprisingly, the hotel has an extensive local wine list. So when you check in, order a bottle and catch the sunset on the rear patio.

management / TripAdvisor

The riverfront fire pit is the perfect place to gather with a group of friends or a special someone.

The rooms and suites at The Lodge are all named after the local wineries and vineyards in the area.

management / TripAdvisor

And each one is well-stocked with plenty of wine glasses and a bottle opener so you can enjoy your nightcap (o happy hour) without having to bring your own supplies.

Since a glass of wine and a relaxing bath go hand in hand, you'll be pleased to learn most rooms and suites have oversized soaking tubs...

management / TripAdvisor

... and if that doesn't sound relaxing enough, you can always book a treatment at the onsite spa.

management / TripAdvisor

The spa specializes in custom massages and facials so you can leave with a refreshed glow.

While you'll be within walking distance from some of Richland's best eateries, you'll definitely want to stick around to enjoy a meal (or two at Drumheller's Food & Drink.

The Lodge At Columbia Point

This fine dining spot is located on the second floor of the hotel, serving dinner from 5-10 p.m. daily.

Not only are the views here exceptional, the food is absolutely delicious.

Jessica Wick

Drumheller's serves a fantastic variety of fresh, local food, and you may have a difficult time deciding what to get (and you really can't go wrong). If you need a break from wine for some reason, the cocktail list here is divine. You can also enjoy a nightcap downstairs at The Vine Wine & Craft Bar.

Obviously, you'll want to do plenty of local wine tasting when you're in the area... but if you're staying at The Lodge on a Thursday, Friday, or Saturday, you won't even have to leave the property to taste.

The Lodge at Columbia Point Facebook

The hotel hosts local wineries on these three evenings, who will be happy to pour you a few free tastes from 5-6:30 p.m.

Other amenities at The Lodge include a beautiful outdoor covered pool and hot tub, a fitness center, and a complimentary breakfast served from 6-10 a.m. on the second floor.

The Lodge at Columbia Point Facebook

You can even rent complimentary bikes if you're up for biking the outdoor riverfront trail and spending some time by the Columbia.

Address: 530 Columbia Point Drive, Richland, WA, 99352

Rates for this beautiful destination hotel vary, but you can typically find rooms for around $200 and riverfront suites for around $250. Check current specials and promotions here. And while the hotel is hard to leave, make sure you venture out long enough to taste wine on horseback.